KING RICHARD'S RESTAURANT DUBROVNIK

At the end of the 12th century, King Richard the Lionheart survived a powerful storm on his return from the Third Crusade. In gratitude, he vowed to build a church at the place where he came ashore. According to legend, he safely arrived on the island of Lokrum near Dubrovnik. At the request of the people of Dubrovnik, the church was instead built within the city walls, and the king was hosted in a palace that still carries the spirit of his story. Today, that historic palace is home to King Richard's Restaurant – a place where legend becomes experience. Every detail reflects the spirit of times past, and our cuisine celebrates history through exceptional flavors.

Welcome – indulge like royalty.
